CONFIDENTIAL

Introduction: Jaya Prakash graduated from the University of Singapore with the degree of Bachelor of Laws (Honours) in 1974. He was admitted as an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Singapore in January 1975. Thereafter, with a break whilst he was in full time national service, he was in legal practice until March 1998 when he became a P&I Club correspondent.

Fellowship: Mr Prakash was made a Fellow of the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators in 2000 and a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators in 2000.

Arbitration: In recent years, Mr Prakash has been sought as an arbitrator in commercial, transnational and maritime disputes. He is familiar with Singapore, English and Malaysian laws and has particular expertise in commercial and maritime law.

Arbitral Institutions: Mr Prakash has been appointed to the panel of the following arbitral institutions :

- a) Cairo Regional Centre for International Commercial Arbitration
- b) Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre
- c) Regional Centre for Arbitration, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia
- d) Singapore Chamber of Maritime Arbitration
- e) Singapore International Arbitration Centre

Mr Prakash is on the Advisory Board for the Centre for Maritime Law in the National University of Singapore.

He is also a supporting member of The London Maritime Arbitrators Association.

ICC : During the last couple of years, Mr Prakash has acted as chairman and as co-arbitrator of arbitration tribunals in ICC arbitration. During his time in legal practice, Mr Prakash had acted as solicitor in ICC arbitrations.

Alternative dispute resolution: Mr Prakash is an accredited mediator to the Singapore Mediation Centre.

Experience: On being admitted to the bar in January 1975, Mr Prakash worked in Drew & Napier, a leading legal practice in Singapore until December 1975 when he was inducted for full time national service. In July 1978, he resumed practice at Drew & Napier where he was engaged in all areas of civil litigation with an emphasis on shipping and marine related matters.

In March 1989, Mr Prakash took on the responsibility of setting up the Shipping & Admiralty Department in Khattar Wong & Partners. There, he continued his representation of P & I Clubs and dealt with a wide range of maritime law work including marine construction and insurance. He also undertook work for organisations outside the marine area and this included advising on projects in other jurisdictions, for example, power generation projects in India.

Since March 1999, Mr Prakash has been a P&I Club correspondent and a commercial arbitrator.

Mr Prakash also sits as an independent director on the board of companies which provide services to the oil and gas industries.
